

I'm writing in opposition to petition RM-11347, filed May 19, 2006, by Glen Zook, K9STH. This petition is recommending that amateur radio operators ID much more frequently than current rules dictate. There is no logical or necessary reason for this, especially when current rules specify an ID interval of only 10 minutes, plus an ID at the end of each communication. Current rules already require more frequent identification than necessary. Petition RM-11347 would be a step in the wrong direction.
